

BUSINESS WORK LIFE

Mark Zolen, superintendent, Eidco Construction

(June 27, 2012)

Mark Zolen has joined Eidco Construction, a commercial construction management company, as a superintendent to support the firm's national growth. Zolen will begin at a project in South Dakota. Most recently, Zolen was a project manager at Capital Construction Group in Algonquin, where he planned, managed and provided leadership. He also was a project manager for Sonoma Construction in Chicago with clients including Finn-McCool, Bradford Allen, Northwestern School of Medicine, Penton Media and Zip Car. He attended the United Brotherhood of Carpenters Carpentry Program from 1997 to 2002.