FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

EIDCO CONSTRUCTION NAMES ED BOGACKI SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER

Retail Construction Veteran Has More Than 25 Years of Experience

CHICAGO, Ill. (June 20, 2011) – Eidco Construction, one of the fastest growing commercial construction management companies in the United States, today announced that the firm has hired Ed Bogacki to serve as senior project manager.

Bogacki, who has more than 25 years of experience as a commercial construction project manager, has worked on a diverse mix of project types including hospitals, schools, prisons, financial institutions, hotels, warehouses, food manufacturing plants, information technology facilities, and corporate office interiors. Additionally, Bogacki has a substantial background in healthcare construction and has managed many retail projects for companies such as Victoria's Secret, Lane Bryant and Tori Burch.

"As we continue to grow, we are eagerly courting the best and brightest talent to further the strategic vision of our company and provide our clients with the high quality results that are synonymous with our projects," said Chez Eider, CEO of Eidco Construction. "Ed has decades of experience managing a wide variety of construction projects, which makes him a perfect edition to the Eidco team. We're excited to have him aboard."

Prior to joining Eidco, Bogacki worked at the Illinois Sports Facility Authority, where he was responsible for providing construction management on a wide range of renovation and new development projects at US Cellular Field, including the 35th Street Development project.

"Eidco has a broad array of services that provide clients with a full scope of construction solutions, tailored to their individual needs," Bogacki said. "I was very pleased to have the opportunity to join this talented team as they continue to expand, and I look forward to helping them drive continued growth."

Bogacki is a graduate of the University of Illinois with a Bachelors of Science in Architecture.
