Scott Deliberto Joins Firm as Site Superintendent

CHICAGO, IL (Aug. 1, 2012) – Eidco Construction, one of the fastest growing construction management companies in the United States, announced today that Scott Deliberto has joined the firm as a site superintendent.

“We were impressed with Scott’s diverse experience in construction, operations, technical and P&L management,” Eidco CEO Chez Eider said. “The expertise he has acquired in subjects such as operating efficiencies, contract negotiations and employee development further add to Eidco’s depth of services.”

Prior to joining Eidco, Deliberto was a project manager/superintendent for Metropolitan Properties of Chicago, where he worked on numerous projects including the adaptive reuse of The Metropolitan Tower, a 242-unit residence, and a 13,600-square-foot retail assignment with Chase bank and a restaurant, among others. His vast responsibilities included managing the general contractor, sub contractors, architect, structural engineer and developer to deliver projects, coordinating the development of future projects, contract negotiations, as well as mechanical, electrical, or plumbing construction project management, strategic planning, resource acquisition and allocation.

Deliberto was also director of construction services and a construction manager for Equity Marketing Services, Inc. where his project list included The Metropolitan Tower, The Park Monroe, Park Boulevard, The Columbian, Parkside of Old Town, Avenue East, The Strand, Dockside, 400 N LaSalle and 474 N Lake Shore Drive. He was also president, designer and builder for Deliberto Carpentry, Inc.

Deliberto has a bachelor’s degree in business administration from Northern Illinois University and an associate’s degree in electronics/technical management from DeVry Institute of Technology. His affiliations include Project Management Institute and American Management Association.

“My skill set and experience are a good match for Eidco,” Deliberto said. “I look forward to applying those skills to deliver consistent management to facilitate Eidco’s projects.”
