Eidco Construction Retained to Oversee Renovation of Skilled Nursing Facility in Bloomingdale, Ill.

West Suburban Nursing and Rehabilitation Center is Latest in Series of Healthcare Projects Completed by Leading Construction Firm

BLOOMINGDALE, ILL. (Aug. 22, 2012) – Eidco Construction, one of the fastest growing commercial construction management companies in the United States, today announced that it has been awarded an approximately 12,000-square-foot interior renovation project at West Suburban Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, located at 311 Edgewater Drive in Bloomingdale, Ill.

Working with Margalit Lankry Design on the architectural design aspects, Eidco oversaw extensive improvements to the facility's corridors, nurses' stations, physical therapy room and elevators.

Lankry points out that the team updated the entire space using various yellow and gold tones to give the facility a fresh atmosphere.

"You look outside and see the sun on the lake adjacent to West Suburban, and you want the sun to continue inside," Lankry said. "This project is one big continuation of the external environment on the inside of the facility."

To give the nurses' stations an up-to-date, cutting-edge look and feel, the team used metal finish elements and created a center panel that is tufted with a faux-leather panel.

"Eidco is fast becoming one of the go-to construction firms for skilled nursing facilities in this region," said Chez Eider, CEO of Eidco Construction. "Our expertise in this niche and individual attention to detail is what sets us apart and helps enrich the quality-of-life elements at these centers."

Located in a quiet residential neighborhood, West Suburban Nursing and Rehabilitation Center features numerous amenities including a full-service beauty salon, library, country store, private dining room, and numerous activities and events for the residents.
