

CONSTRUCTION BUSINESS OWNER

March 13, 2012

Eidco Construction Bolsters Chicago Office

CHICAGO, IL – Eidco Construction, one of the fastest growing commercial construction management companies in the United States, today announced that the firm has recently added Bradley Peterson and Larry Vivoda to its team. Both will serve as senior project managers for the company.

“We look to attract the best and brightest talent that will help the strategic growth of our company and provide our clients with the high quality results that are synonymous with our projects,” said Chez Eider, CEO of Eidco Construction. “Both Brad and Larry have unique talents that are a good fit for Eidco and we’re excited to have them on the team.”

Peterson, who has worked on the project management side of commercial construction for over 15 years with experience in a variety of project types, was most recently Vice President of Commercial Construction for Phoenix Construction Consultants. In that role, he successfully managed various office development, tenant improvement, institutional and retail projects. Throughout his career, Peterson has managed projects for clients such as Motorola, Costco, Dick’s Sporting Goods and Circuit City.

“Eidco has a wide breadth of services that provide clients with a full scope of tailored construction solutions,” said Peterson. “This was a great opportunity to join a talented team that is focused on anticipating the needs of each project they undertake and I look forward to building upon that reputation.”

Peterson is a graduate of Marquette University with a Bachelors of Science in Civil Engineering and has been certified as a LEED AP by the U.S. Green Building Council.

In his new role, Vivoda is responsible for overseeing construction projects for Eidco. Within this capacity, he primarily specializes in retail and hospitality construction. He has over 26 years of experience in construction management and, during his career, has built everything from a four-lane divided highway to a 17-story 411-room four-star hotel. Most recently, Vivoda served as VP of Construction at Mid America Development Partners, LLC, where he was responsible for the planning, bidding, scheduling and the execution of all the new and renovated retail construction. “Eidco is well known for high-quality and innovative projects that challenge the status quo and exceed customer expectations on all levels,” said Vivoda. “I’m excited to join the firm and I look forward to contributing to its success.”

Vivoda holds degrees in Industrial Technology from Illinois State University and in Liberal Arts from the College of DuPage in Glen Ellyn, Illinois.

A leading general contractor and construction management company, Eidco Construction is experienced in the building of commercial construction projects as well as residential developments. The firm provides pre-construction, construction management, “fast track” building and design+build services. Through depth of professional experience and a strong network of best-in-class industry professionals and suppliers, Eidco Construction delivers unparalleled value and innovation to its clients nationwide.